

State of Vermont
Executive Department
A Proclamation

WHEREAS, Thanksgiving Day designates a time for friends, family, and loved ones to gather together to give thanks for the blessings in their lives over the past year, and show love and respect for one another; and

WHEREAS, Thanksgiving Day remains one of our nation's oldest traditions, celebrating civility and good will throughout our communities; and

WHEREAS, this time of year reminds us to appreciate our freedoms and remember those who protect, serve, and sacrifice for our nation to preserve our fundamental rights; and

WHEREAS, gathering with our loved ones, and showing appreciation for friends and strangers alike on Thanksgiving and throughout the holiday season strengthens the bonds in our communities, and emphasizes the importance of our unity and resiliency as a state and a nation; and

WHEREAS, because of the strength, good-will and community spirit of Vermonters, we must be especially thankful for our friends, neighbors and the Vermont values that make this state so great; and

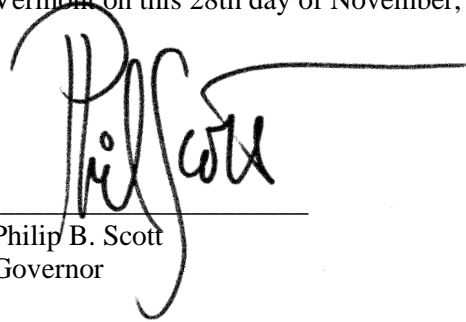

WHEREAS, it is important we remember to act every day with the kindness, care, and consideration we extend during this time of Thanksgiving.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Philip B. Scott, Governor, hereby proclaim November 28, 2019 as a

DAY OF THANKSGIVING

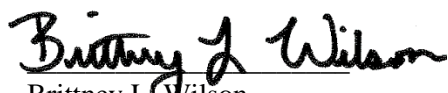

in Vermont.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Vermont on this 28th day of November, A.D. 2019.

Philip B. Scott
Governor

Brittney L. Wilson
Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs