

State of Vermont
Executive Department
A Proclamation

- WHEREAS, Vermont agriculture, food, and dairy are essential to Vermont and embody its core values; and
- WHEREAS, Vermont farms and agriculture and food businesses are iconic, preserve and beautify our working landscape, and have important stories to share; and
- WHEREAS, Vermont residents and visitors enjoy Vermont’s bucolic landscape, treasure its farms and food, revel in its bounty, and have important stories to share; and
- WHEREAS, Vermont farmers, residents, visitors, and agriculture and food businesses rely on each other, are stronger together, and have important information and experiences to learn; and
- WHEREAS, Vermont farmers, agricultural businesses, families, and friends can join together on May 12, 2021 to share stories, pictures, knowledge, experience, videos, and insight through social media and can help celebrate #Farm24VT; and
- WHEREAS, #Farm24VT is online (<https://farm24vt.com>) and is a wonderful way to promote Vermont agriculture, connect businesses and consumers, strengthen existing bonds, forge new ones, and strengthen Vermont’s important connection to its farms, food, and dairies.
- NOW, THEREFORE, I, Philip B. Scott, Governor, hereby proclaim May 12, 2021 as

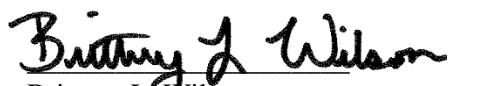

SOCIAL MEDIA AGRICULTURE, FOOD & DAIRY DAY

in Vermont.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Vermont on this 5th day of May, A.D. 2021.
