

State of Vermont
Executive Department
A Proclamation

- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle was designated as the United States’ national emblem on June 20, 1782, by our country’s founding fathers at the Second Continental Congress; and
- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle is the central image used in the Great Seal of the United States, and in the logos of many branches of the U.S. Government, including the Presidency and Congress; and
- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle’s image, meaning and symbolism have played a significant role in the beliefs, traditions, lifestyles and heritage of Americans from all walks of life; and
- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle’s image, meaning and symbolism have played a significant role in American art, music, literature, architecture, commerce, education, culture; and
- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle was once endangered with possible extinction, and is making an encouraging comeback to America’s skies; and
- WHEREAS, the Bald Eagle was federally classified as an endangered species in the lower 48 states under the Endangered Species Preservation Act of 1966 and subsequent Endangered Species Act of 1973, and was upgraded to a less imperiled “threatened” status under the act in 1995; and
- WHEREAS, the Department of the Interior and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service delisted the Bald Eagle from Endangered Species Act protection in 2007, but will continue to be protected under the Bald & Golden Eagle Protection Act and the Migratory Bird Treaty Act; and
- WHEREAS, the recovery of our nation’s Bald Eagle population was largely accomplished due to the vigilant efforts of numerous caring agencies, corporations, organizations, and citizens; and
- WHEREAS, nesting Bald Eagles were absent from Vermont from the 1940s through 2008, but populations have since grown to at least 37 nesting pairs; and
- WHEREAS, twenty-nine eaglets were translocated to and fledged in Vermont at Dead Creek Wildlife Management Area from 2003-2006; and
- WHEREAS, Bald Eagles were listed as endangered in Vermont in 1987, and due to their strong recovery are currently under consideration for delisting in the state.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Philip B. Scott, Governor, hereby proclaim June 20, 2021 as

in Vermont.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Vermont on this 17th day of June, A.D. 2021.

Philip B. Scott
Governor
