

State of Vermont
Executive Department
A Proclamation

WHEREAS, certified public accountants (CPAs) play an important role in ensuring the fiscal health and well-being of people, businesses, and institutions across Vermont; and

WHEREAS, charged with providing accounting and auditing services, management advisory services, and individual, corporate tax, and financial planning advice, CPAs are essential to the vitality and prosperity of the state; and

WHEREAS, CPAs in Vermont use their unique knowledge and experiences to provide reliable financial counsel that protects and promotes the prosperity of businesses, the stability of government operations, the success of higher education institutions, and the confidence of investors throughout the country; and

WHEREAS, this month, Vermont recognizes all certified public accountants for their commitment to the fiscal health of the state and their work to support individuals, communities, and businesses.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Philip B. Scott, Governor, hereby proclaim November 2023 as

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS MONTH
in Vermont.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Vermont on this 6th day of November, A.D. 2023.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Philip B. Scott", is written over a horizontal line.

Philip B. Scott
Governor

Brittney J. Wilson
Brittney Wilson
Secretary of Civil and Military Affairs